Aneta Bartos and Nick Weber feverishly inject vigor and verve into the dualities of existence. With two-dimensional photographs and paintings, respectively, JACK & JILL explores the binaries of the light and the dark, the modern and the nostalgic, the erotic and the romantic, and the masculine and the feminine. Bartos and Weber work together as intuitive parallels, conjoining their works together and playing the roles of artistic brother and sister. Curated by Anne Huntington, JACK & JILL marks the first time artists Bartos and Weber will exhibit their works together.
